

Dr. Stephen Wilton is a Cardiac Electrophysiologist based at the University of Calgary's Libin Cardiovascular Institute. He conducts cardiovascular clinical and health outcomes research, with interest areas including atrial fibrillation, and arrhythmia risk in coronary heart disease.