

Dr. Kara Nerenberg is a General Internist who works in Obstetric Medicine and a Clinician-Scientist at the University of Calgary. Dr. Nerenberg's clinical and research interests focus on the prevention of vascular diseases in young women with pregnancies complicated by the hypertensive disorders of pregnancy. Her research is supported by Heart and Stroke's / CIHR's Women's Heart and Brain Health Mid-Career Research Chair.