

Dr Sandra M Dumanski, MD, FRCPC

Dr Dumanski is a Clinical Assistant Professor in the Department of Medicine at the University of Calgary. She received a Medical Degree from the University of Saskatchewan, followed by a clinical residency in Internal Medicine and a clinical fellowship in Nephrology. Dr Dumanski has also obtained a Master's Certificate in Health Systems Management. Dr Dumanski's program of research focuses on sex and gender differences in cardiovascular medicine and the complex interaction of female sex hormones with cardiorenal outcomes in women. Dr Dumanski presently sits on the Canadian Women's Heart Health Alliance Advocacy Committee, as well as the Hypertension Canada guidelines Central Review Committee.